Disney+ brings a Broadway smash to streaming with the Tony-winning ‘Hamilton’

American television has a proud tradition of bringing award-winning stage productions to the small screen.

Be it a one-off special on a network or long-running PBS series such as “Great Performances” or “Masterpiece Theatre,” anyone who doesn’t live near New York has wanted to take in a Broadway show has been able to do so without leaving the comfort of their living room.

The latest comes this month with the arrival of “Hamilton.” Premiering Friday, July 3, on Disney+, the Tony-winning play from director Thomas Kail offers a rap-infused look at Alexander Hamilton’s life and formative role in American history. Starring Lin-Manuel Miranda (who also wrote the musical) in the title role, this production is made up largely of filmed performances featuring the original Broadway cast, shot at the Richard Rodgers Theater in June 2016.

It joins a laundry list of stage productions that have introduced TV viewers to what Broadway is all about, including the following.

“Peter Pan” (March 7, 1955; NBC): The original 1954 Broadway play came to television a year later with the same cast, including Mary Martin as the boy who refused to grow up. Martin and co-star Cyril Ritchard (as Captain Hook) took home Tony Awards for their performances. A 2000 production with Cathy Rigby in the starring role also drew rave reviews.

“Cinderella” (Feb. 22, 1965; CBS): An 18-year-old Lesley Ann Warren’s career got a major lift with her starring role in Rodgers and Hammerstein’s iconic musical about a mistreated peasant who finds her prince, though she admitted later to nerves playing opposite decorated screen legends Celeste Holm and Walter Pidgeon. And that’s future “General Hospital” mainstay Stuart Damon as the prince.

“Death of a Salesman” (May 8, 1966; CBS): Arthur Miller’s Tony-winning play about an aging travelling salesman on the verge of a nervous breakdown starred Lee J. Cobb in the iconic role of Willy Loman, in a cast that also included Stanley Adams, Edward Andrews and Albert Dekker. Sharp-eyed viewers will also notice George Segal and Bernice Kopell (“The Love Boat”) in bit parts.

“Kiss Me, Kate” (March 25, 1968, ABC): Cole Porter’s musical about behind-the-scenes conflict during a stage production of Shakespeare’s “The Taming of the Shrew” featured then-spouses Robert Goulet and Carol Lawrence in the roles of contentious exes Fred and Lilli.

“Oklahoma!” (Nov. 15, 2013, PBS): Fifteen years after it was filmed for the BBC, this 1998 National Theatre of London production came to “Great Performances” with a game Hugh Jackman in the starring role of Cowboy Curly, who tries to win the heart of headstrong Laurey (Josefina Gabrielle) in a singing and dancing extravaganza.

47th Annual Daytime Emmy Awards

Like most ceremonies taking place during the COVID-19 pandemic, the 47th Daytime Emmy Awards will be a virtual affair, with winners making their acceptance speeches remotely from their homes. One bright spot? At least these awards are back on broadcast television, after having been sidetracked by the 1976 debut of the Game Show Network and the rise of streaming social platforms in recent years. CBS, the top-rated network in daytime since 1986, currently is home to the top two game shows ("Let's Make a Deal" and "The Price Is Right") and soap operas ("The Young and the Restless" and "The Bold and the Beautiful").

Great Performances
Emmy- and Golden Globe-winning actress Christine Lahti stars as feminist pioneer Gloria Steinem in the new "Gloria: A Life" featuring an all-female cast playing both male and female roles. Playwright Emily Mann devotes Act 1 to a chronicle of Steinem's life, particularly in terms of her path to activism. Act 2, however, changes format to a "talking picture" with the audience, moderated by Steinem herself, to discuss some of the play's themes.

Movie: The Housekeeper

Ewan McGregor has barely moved into the home of his dreams when his estate has to send him an out-of-town assignment. Luckily for him, his new house is not only beautiful, but it is also perfect for a perfect house sitter. Dan is terribly, terribly wrong about that, and while he’s away, Kristin really makes herself at home in his house, with no plans for ever leaving it — or Dan.

Vivica A. Fox, Jason-Shane Scott and Anna Dobbins star in this 2020 melodrama.

10:03 p.m. on HIST Counting Cars

In a new episode called "Mike Gets Medieval," he puts his faith in Horny Mike when it comes to painting a medieval mural on a "73 GMC pickup truck, but unfortunately he soon comes to regret that misplaced confidence. On a much happier note, Mike also stumbles upon a rare Carroll Shelby-designed sportster while hunting for a client's dream car.

Clive Stanfield

In the Season 1 finale, "Fight or Flight," Anthony (Clive Stanfield) finds Robin and Theo (Sarah Wayne Callies, Emjay Anthony) in serious danger when they get to the storm-stricken Perry residence, and Oliver (J. August Richards) quickly lends medical assistance when Sage (Jazz Raycole) goes into early labor. Later, the kids struggle to process the news about Lily (Michele Weaver) as the future of the Crab Shack is left hanging in the balance. Hilarie Burton and David Walton guest star.

The team scramble to stay one step ahead of Madeline and Ivy (Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Julee Cerda) as they get closer to the location of the hidden bunker in the new episode "Ghost Train." They soon realize, however, that somewhere there's a mole who is feeding them false information, and their adversary's plan starts taking shape. Jane, Weller (Jaime Alexander, Sullivan Stapleton) and their colleagues may have to take some desperate measures.

In the new episode "Perfect Retreat," Dave and Jenny Marrs, the stars of "Fixer to Fabulous," surprise a busy couple in the new episode of "Turf War." Elsewhere, Tom and David Bromstad ("My Lottery Dream Home," several other shows) take a Los Angeles clan's lackluster family room and give it a much-needed injection of fun and funk.

In a new episode called "The Fly," most of this season's participants begin to have success when it comes to pursuing food, but still find themselves vulnerable to the Arctic's many dangers, some of which they had not anticipated or adequately prepared for. In the new episode of "Naked and Afraid," a sudden illness attacks one participant, while another is tormented by a tiny invader.

“Isolation Stories” (Available now, Britbox)
Oscar-nominated writer and producer Jeff Pope (“Philomena,” “A Confession”) drew on his own family’s battle with COVID-19 to create this four-episode drama that follows several clans as they endure their own struggles with the pandemic and isolation. The series was shot entirely in lockdown by the cast and their families with the goal to reflect real-life situations that families are going through after weeks of isolation. (ORIGINAL)
